

LOST CREATURES Schools Competition

Open to Primary School children in years 1—5.

INFORMATION FOR TEACHERS

A competition open to all Primary Schools. Although a visit is not compulsory, we invite you to use our Extinct Gallery as inspiration, study the different adaptations of animals on display alongside our examples of extinct and endangered species in the Museums collection. Children use our simple worksheet to start to develop ideas for their Lost Creature.

NATIONAL CURRICULUM LINKS

Animals and Humans, Living things and their Habitats

Please note: Our Evolution workshop also links with these topics.

BACK AT SCHOOL

Children then develop their design, thinking about special adaptations and their purpose, texture, colour and habitat. The winning entry will be created into a human sized puppet which will make it's debut appearance at the Yorkshire Museum during October half term 2015. The winner will receive a model version of their design and your class wins a free Evolution workshop. This can be delivered at your school or at the Yorkshire Museum. Presentations will take place week commencing 6th July.
