

York Art Gallery

Laurence Payot's Living Sculpture Steward

What will you be doing?

You will guide visitors through the interactive piece of art, enabling them to get the best experience. The piece allows visitors to animate particles and create a unique 'sculpture' from the movement of their hands.

What will you gain from volunteering here?

Meet people

Not only will you chat to the public but you will join a team of volunteers, get to know gallery staff and will have access to a range of volunteer events.

Learning something new

With specific training you will learn about contemporary art and the work of Laurence Payot.

Helping others

You will help visitors to engage with the art and give them a great visitor experience.

Get Active

Visit the art gallery regularly and enjoy the atmosphere of this beautiful, thought provoking environment.

Who are we looking for?

You do not need to know anything about the collections. We will give you all the information you need. If you are over 18, are available for a minimum of 2.5 hours a week, plus an initial training session, and can say yes to the following questions:

- I am friendly and enthusiastic and like talking to people
- I want to learn more about art and tell visitors about the art on display as well as our collections
- I enjoy being part of a team

Then do apply online.

When can you volunteer?

We have sessions from 11:00am until 1:30pm and 1:30pm until 4pm every day of the week and you choose sessions to suit your own schedule.

Who can you talk to about volunteering?

You can either apply online or if you have a specific question you can email the Volunteers Coordinator at:

philip.newton@ymt.org.uk

York Museums Trust was formed on August 1 2002, as an independent charitable trust to manage the museums and gallery service previously run by City of York Council. Supported by the Council, York Museums Trust is responsible for York Art Gallery, York Castle Museum, Yorkshire Museum and Gardens and York St Mary's