

York Art Gallery

Doug Fishbone's Leisure Land Golf Steward

What will you be doing?

You will be helping us to interpret an installation from a renowned contemporary artist while helping visitors to get up close and personal by playing a game of crazy golf.

What will you gain from volunteering here?

Meet people

Not only will you chat to the public but you will join a team of volunteers, get to know gallery staff, and will have access to a range of volunteer events.

Learning something new

With specific training, you will learn about contemporary artists and their work.

Helping others

You will help visitors to engage with the installation and give them a great visitor experience.

Get Active

Visit the art gallery and garden regularly and enjoy the beautiful, thought provoking environment in the height of summer.

Who are we looking for?

You do not need to have previous knowledge about the installation. If you are over 18, are available for a minimum of 2.5 hours a week, plus an initial training session, and can say yes to the following questions:

- I am friendly and enthusiastic and like talking to people
- I want to learn more about contemporary art and tell visitors about the collections
- I enjoy being part of a team

Then do apply online.

When can you volunteer?

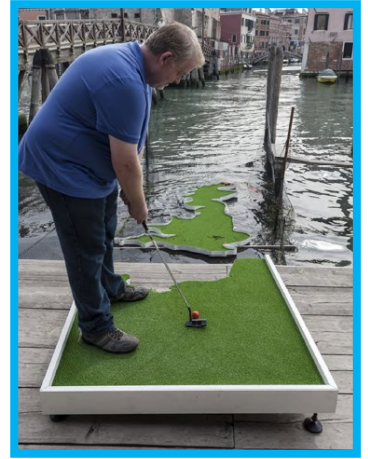

The installation will run from 3 June to 3 September 2017, and volunteer sessions will be from 11:00am until 1:30pm and 1:30pm until 4pm every day of the week. You choose sessions to suit your own schedule. In addition, there will be a mandatory training session on Wednesday 31 May at 11am at York Art Gallery.

Who can you talk to about volunteering?

You can either apply online or if you have a specific question you can email the Volunteers Coordinator at:

philip.newton@ymt.org.uk

York Museums Trust was formed on August 1 2002, as an independent charitable trust to manage the museums and gallery service previously run by City of York Council. Supported by the Council, York Museums Trust is responsible for York Art Gallery, York Castle Museum, Yorkshire Museum and Gardens and York St Mary's

More about the installation

Doug Fishbone's Leisure Land Golf, is a fully playable, miniature golf course, designed and made by 10 leading voices from the contemporary art world. 7 of the holes will be available in York. The dates for the exhibition in York will be 02 June – 03 September 2017. There will be a small charge for visitors to play the course.

Beyond the sculptural aspect of the works, through play, visitors will connect with important cultural topics, including: migration, global warming and globalisation. From top left across the artists are John Akomfrah, Yinka Shonibare, Ellie Harrison, and from the bottom left, Doug Fishbone, Hetain Patel and Eyal and Ines Weizman.

Leisure Land Golf was originally produced for Venice Biennale #56, 2015, through EM15; a collective of arts organisations from the East Midlands. With NAE as the Executive Producer, EM15 also comprises of QUAD (Derby), One Thoresby Street (Nottingham) and Beacon Art Project (Lincolnshire) with support from Nottingham Trent University and The University of Nottingham.
